The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, it is so ordered.

Mr. REID. Mr. President, if there is no further business today, I turn to the Republican leader.

Mr. McCONNELL. Mr. President, I think we completed the week's business. As the majority leader indicated, we will turn to the supplemental appropriations bill for the troops in Iraq next Monday, and hopefully we will be able to wrap that bill up next week.

Mr. REID. The distinguished Republican leader and I have talked on a number of occasions. We have a divided Government, with a Republican in the White House and a Democratic Senate and House. Divided Government often-times has allowed us to get a lot done. The Republican leader and I hope that is the case, and we will continue to try to work with the White House and accomplish things. We have been able to do a pretty good job the first 3 months. We have a lot more to do. Hopefully, what the Republican leader and I have talked about will allow us to get a lot more done.
